The Sunday Papers
This Mattapoisett Life
By Marilou Newell

Something is disappearing in living rooms, dens, and studies across this great land. Maybe it’s already gone in your home. In our home, though, my husband and I are holding on, refusing to accept the reality that the Sunday newspapers of our youth are just about gone.

As a kid growing up, the Sunday morning ritual of grabbing the funny first (or later on when tastes matured in equal proportion to chronological aging, settling in to read the Parade Magazine) was part of the fabric of our American lives. Not so much today, and more’s the pity.

My husband is just old enough to remember a time when reading the newspaper was paired with listening to the radio. Lying on the floor reading the daily newspaper, and then, on Sundays after church, spending hours pouring over the pages of the Sunday edition was a treat, not a chore. Are there people out there, like us, that remember the joy of black newsprint fingers?

Newspapers, you know, those cheap paper printed communication vehicles that crunch when you turn the pages and require map-folding skills to get the most reading pleasure from their broadsheet sizing, are nearly a thing of the past. (Pause to sigh deeply, for many minutes, as I collect my thoughts and emotions.)

On the cover: This local monarch butterfly seen feeding on this butterfly bush will soon take part in the great fall migration across the continent that could take it as far as southwestern Mexico, a seemingly impossible 3,000-mile journey for a creature of such delicateness. She won’t be returning to the Tri-Town, though, after wintering for months in the Mexican mountains with the millions of other monarchs. Instead, she will make her way back up north, but only as far as Texas, where she will find some local milkweed to lay the eggs that will yield the next generation of monarchs. Her children will instinctively take to the skies to complete the migration cycle all the way back to the Tri-Town. Photo by Jean Perry

Newspapers are something that united my family in a common activity that we could all agree on. Newspapers taught us negotiation skills. “I’ll let you have the funny first if you’ll pass me the sports page.” The room would be absent familial strife and struggle as we each dove headfirst into reading the newspaper sections of our preference. What wonderous adventures could be found in the travel pages. High fashion, haute couture silliness gave rise to my Barbie doll creations while Ma tried her hand at the crossword puzzle and Dad read and re-read the used car classifieds.

While the grown-ups focused on world news, the kids in the house all wanted the funny. Blondie, Peanuts, Marmaduke, Beetle Bailey, Hagar, B.C. and Dick Tracery come rebounding to my frontal cortex out of the darkness that is otherwise known as “I can’t remember.” To have lived during a time when entertainment was easily found in a four-panel sequence of fun – well, if you don’t have these memories, you simply will never know what truly being alive is all about. (Another deep sigh.)

Later on, as the decades advanced there was Non Sequitor, Dilbert, Doonesbury, and the much beloved and grieved Calvin & Hobbes. Sunday, regardless of the weather conditions or realities that had to be faced, was just a bit easier after a leisurely romp through the funnies.

It’s a quiet pursuit for the most part, reading the newspaper, that is. Oh, there is or was, I should say, the occasional, “You have got to read this!” Or the eager lament, “Will you hurry up, I want to see what Kennedy said yesterday.”

On Sundays, back in the day, the paper was huge – I mean literally huge. The Sunday papers of my youth were heavy tomes of importance. Just bringing it in from the driveway or tooting it home from the market required super-human strength. That is, if you were a 6-year old kid.

Truth is, advertisers needed the newspapers and the newspapers needed the advertiser making it a match made in marketing heaven. The Sunday newspaper was chock-a-block of full-page display advertisements and many, many pages of classified ads driving up page count. Today, instead of reading an ad and being wowed by its message, you are bombarded with digital marketing bits 24/7.

But, back to the newspapers we love(d). There was something for everyone regardless of your reading level. And how many of you out there remember learning to read by studying the newspaper, or snuggling up with a grandchild to read the funnies aloud and harmoniously together? The Sunday newspapers were a time to bond over a shared activity.

My husband doesn’t need any help carrying the Sunday papers to our reading spot in the living room. “Damn, no Parade Magazine again this week!” he is wont to say on many occasions. My standard reply has become, “No loss.” That cultural Sunday supplement is so diminished in size, its meager pages are barely worth the effort of reaching across the coffee table to retrieve it from the pile. Heck, even the ‘pile’ is a little more than a few measly pages.

If you are reading this sad tale, you love newspapers. Thank you for that. Thank you for taking the time to not only pick up this printed account of life in the Tri-Town area over the past seven days, but also for actually reading it.

I loathe the day when on a Sunday morning instead of sitting down with the heavenly scent of hot coffee I reach across the table and turn on some version of an iPad. I will always want that crinkly, crunchy section of printed paper that can transport me into the mind of a political mover and shaker, or inspire me to cook up something using scotch bonnets. I want always to look forward to peaceful Sunday mornings, especially during the dark of winter when hours somehow slip pleasantly away while my eyes take a journey across and down printed column inches.

We have stopped reading the daily papers in lieu of electronically transmitted bytes. But we hold on dearly to our Sunday newspaper fix. When those too become a thing of the past, when I pick-up my phone on a Sunday morning to try and find something worth reading but only find my social media friends have updated their profile pictures, well, then life as we knew it will have come to an unholy end.

I told my granddaughter as she prepared to return to college a few hours away from home, “I’ll clip out articles I think you might find inspiring for essays and mail them to you.” I meant the real thing, you know, real newspaper being clipped, folded, slipped into an envelope, and send via the United States Postal Service. She looked at me with a gentle smile that said something like, “You poor old thing.” Instead, she simply said, “Okay Gramma,” hugged me, and went on her way into the world where, one day, newspapers, the USPS, and I will all be a memory. I hope it will be fond.

Dorian Ushers In National Preparedness Month
By Jean Perry

As of press time, hurricane “Dorian” was still hundreds of miles away from affecting the region with substantial rain and wind. However, the National Weather Service still reports that Tri-Town communities are within the “cone of uncertainty” for weather caused by the proximity of category 1 Hurricane Dorian Friday morning through Saturday as it makes a relatively close pass off the coast Cape Cod and the Southcoast.

Dorian, with his still uncertain effects on the Tri-Town expected later this week, is ushering us into September, “National Preparedness Month”, when residents are urged to “be disaster aware and take action to prepare.”

The theme of this year’s preparedness campaign is “Prepared, not scared.” But what exactly does it mean to be prepared, and how would you rate your household’s readiness for a natural disaster such as a major hurricane or tornado in your neighborhood? Would your family know what to do if a natural disaster strikes while your child is at school or at a friend’s house, you are at work, the cell phone towers are down, and you can’t communicate? Would your children know what to do if they are home alone when disaster strikes? Does your family have a plan in the event of an emergency, whether if together at home or separated by distance?

There are four questions that are better answered before disaster strikes: How will I receive emergency warnings and alerts? What is my shelter plan? What is my evacuation route? And, what is my family/household communication plan? “I don’t know” is the worst answer in the middle of a crisis. Planning for a disaster today beneath blue skies and thinking about how to respond before the time comes will protect you and your family during that critical moment when minutes can save lives.

Sometimes a storm like a blizzard or hurricane gives us days to take steps to prepare, such as filling the vehicle with gas, withdrawing extra cash from the bank or ATM, filling prescriptions, and filling plastic bags with water and storing them in the freezer. But for disasters that happen without warning, there are some things the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) wants you to consider keeping somewhere safe in your house in the event of a disaster that, at some point, your family will likely experience to some degree.

Nonperishable food and water: A three-day supply of canned foods, peanut butter, and other foods that do not require refrigeration with at least a gallon of water per person per day is the minimal recommendation, but infants and babies will need a three-day supply of formula, as well. And if you have pets, a three-day supply of food and water is recommended for them, as well. Don’t forget to keep a manual can-opener stored with your emergency food stash along with some utensils and anything else you would need to prepare and eat your food.

Prescriptions and First-Aid: If you’ve ever left for your week-long vacation and forgot to pack your prescription, then you know what it’s like to have to manage without them for several days. For those with pain management, mental health issues, or serious health issues requiring life-sustaining medications such as insulin, safely storing a month’s supply of non-expired prescriptions is essential. So is a first aid kit that is waterproof, stocked with the bare essentials such as triangular bandages, rolled gauze, and antibacterial ointment, and easily visible (brightly colored) and accessible if caught off guard by a disaster.

Emergency contact information: If you need to use a landline in the event that your cellphone does not work or the battery has died, you might not to be able to access those phone numbers you have stored so keep a list of important numbers safely stored. A portable hand-crank radio could also keep you connected to the latest emergency information for your area should the likely event that Internet services are also down.

Other essentials: Keep an extra flashlight and batteries in your emergency preparedness kit. Know where your gas shutoff valve is located and have the tools you need stored nearby. Know where your electrical circuit box is, and remember to shut off each individual circuit before shutting off the main circuit. Know how to shut off the main water valve to your house because shutting it down immediately can keep cracked lines from polluting the water supply to your house. Keep your important documents such as passports and vital birth records in a weatherproof box in a safe location. Upload other important documents to a thumb drive and keep this stored inside, too. Make sure you have insurance and know what is covered under your policy.

“The best defense for an emergency is being properly prepared,” said Health and Human Services Secretary Marylou Sudders in a September 3 press release. “As we recognize Emergency Preparedness Month, we encourage individuals now and every day to take proactive steps to safeguard their future health should a disaster occur.”

Mendell’s Lectures Inform and Entertain

By Marilou Newell

Seth Mendell, president emeritus of the Mattapoisett Historical Society, gave his audience another slice of Mattapoisett’s early years when he spoke at the museum on September 1 about how the town had been on a speedy path of growth and economic diversity from its earliest days when it separated from Rochester.

Mendell delved into the years between 1812 and 1857, years that saw the community’s fortunes and its people ebb and flow like the tide. As he shared his research and insight honed from many decades of study, Mendell’s ability to weave a story was on full display.

Starting with 1815, Mendell spoke of three major blows the budding community felt and ultimately survived. The first of these was a hurricane named “The Great September Gale”.

“It was a tremendous storm that hit at midday during a high tide,” he said. Ships that were under construction along the Water Street shipyards were driven into buildings. The salt works, an important area of business, was flooded; trees stripped of their leaves wouldn’t be green again until next spring. Crops were ruined.

Thank you, Dr. Tam!

At the end of September, Dr. Stacy Tam will be leaving Marion Family Chiropractic

It has been my pleasure to contribute to your journey towards health and wellness at this office. My sincere wish is for you to continue your chiropractic care as you work toward a healthier and stronger body.

“The landscape was changed by the storm,” Mendell said, noting that an area that had been marshland was filled in by tidal surges and is today a residential neighborhood, Mahoney’s Lane. The roof of a church in the Hammondtown enclave was blown completely off, ultimately causing the church to be moved, he said.

Taking a pause from natural disasters, Mendell told the audience that Route 6 meanders in its curvy fashion because, he said, “It is an old Indian trail.” These kinds of anecdotal details make listening to Mendell more like listening to old tales, ones that never grow tiresome as new tidbits are uncovered.

Churches sprang up throughout the community and its many neighborhoods, as did schools, Mendell said. Tiny residential groups each had their unique name, oftentimes originating from the first family such as Hammondtown, Randallville, Dextertown, and Cannonville. The village of Mattapoisett was growing, and by 1857, Mattapoisett would finally be released by Rochester, something Rochester had resisted for many years.

Then the second blow to pound the area was spotted fever. It was reported at the time that a sailor in Fairhaven had arrived carrying the infection. Ultimately, Mattapoisett alone would lose 200 people to the terrifying disease. It was even more frightening because, Mendell said, “It struck the young and healthy of the community. Sixty heads of households died…. No one knew how to treat it … [then] after six months it petered out.”

The third major blow was a weather event in 1816, one that had global ramifications: “the year without summer.”

Mendell said that a volcanic eruption large enough to block out the sun for months occurred that year in Indonesia. He said that frost destroyed crops throughout the growing season, forcing local residents to pay dearly for imported food stocks.

But life goes on, as they say.

Mattapoisett continued to enjoy prosperity from shipbuilding for the whaling industry, and later on for a newer, faster type of ocean vessel – the clipper ship. Robust trade from around the globe, sale of whale oil to Europe, its most lucrative trading partner, lumbering, fishing, salt production, sawmills, Mendell said, “It was a bubble of economic growth.” A bubble, of course, that would once again burst.

In 1849 there was an economic depression caused by the collapse of banks in England and other parts of Europe. Mattapoisett, as a major exporter to England, felt the sting as boat building came to a halt. It’s not surprising, then, to learn that when gold was discovered in California and the tales of vast wealth arrived via ships returning home, many men in the local area hightailed it to “them thar hills.” From Mattapoisett, 120 men headed west seeking gold.

Mendell told the story of one New Englander, Doctor Samuel Merritt, who sought his fortune in gold. However, he, like nearly every other gold miner, found his efforts were for naught. But Merritt had something most of the other forty-niners didn’t—he was a doctor. Mendell said he hung a shingle out in San Francisco, “In the first year he made $40,000.” A princely sum, indeed.

Merritt’s history is now deeply intertwined with that of the gold coast’s. He was a founder of the City of Oakland, a participant and prime mover in many business ventures, and, today, one can find his name throughout northern California. The wife and children he had left behind joined him. “They lived happily ever after,” Mendell said with a chuckle.

Throughout his presentation, stories of human interest gave the listener not only a grasp of life during those early years, but also the experiences of the people in terms that brought them to life once more.

One story that was especially endearing was that of a captain who was sailing from New England to San Francisco. During the trip, the first mate fell into the ocean during a terrible storm and the captain was knocked out cold from swing gear. There was no one left onboard who could navigate the ship. Absent someone who knew how to use a sexton, the ship would flounder aimlessly in the mighty sea. But, wait! The captain had taught his 17-year-old daughter who was traveling with him how to use a sexton. “It was she, a slip of a girl who navigated the ship

Board Preps for Appointing Town Clerk
Rochester Board of Selectmen
By Jean Perry

Selectman Greenwood “Woody” Hartley asked during the September 3 Rochester Board of Selectmen’s meeting to look ahead toward the spring annual election, when the town clerk position officially changes from an elected position to an appointed one.

Town Meeting voters in May approved the article proposing an appointed rather than elected town clerk, an idea first presented to the other selectmen in April by Hartley himself upon current Town Clerk Naida Parker’s announcement that she would be retiring from the post after 35 years.

On September 3, Hartley asked that the matter be added to the next meeting’s agenda in order to prepare for the transition with a “complete plan” to include a proposed budget. Perhaps the selectmen might even have a candidate chosen come the annual April election, Hartley said.

“[There will be] a quick turnover after election,” said Hartley. “If we start talking about it now, it’ll give us time to put together a thoughtful plan.”

In other business, Town Administrator Suzanne Szyndlar announced that the Plumb Library received a donation of $17,060 from the George E. & Katherine H. Church Revocable Trust for “general uses and purposes” at the library.
Pickles Resigns As Town Clerk

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

Ray Pickles has resigned from his elected position as town clerk via a two-sentence letter delivered to the Selectmen’s Office the morning of September 3.

“He said that he was resigning due to health problems,” stated Town Administrator Jay McGrail during the September 3 meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen. “So, we no longer have Mr. Ray Pickles as the town clerk.”

The letter comes months after the selectmen requested that Pickles, 85, resign in light of the Attorney General’s criminal indictment, and two months after Pickles stopped receiving a paycheck for the position after Town Meeting voted to de-fund the town clerk salary line item during the May Annual Town Meeting effective July 1, 2019.

Pickles is the former executive director of the Carver, Marion, Wareham Regional Refuse Disposal
District and faces six criminal charges of Larceny over $250. He is also a defendant in a civil suit filed by the CMWRRDD last year.

Pickles is accused of stealing over $610,000 in CMWRRDD funds between 2010-2017 through alleged unauthorized cash withdrawals and checks he made out to himself from secret checking accounts unknown to the board that oversees the CMWRRDD.

Pickles’ resignation is effective immediately.

The board then promptly appointed current Assistant Town Clerk Lissa Magauran as the temporary town clerk until Pickles’ term ends in April 2020.

In addition to de-funding Pickles’ salary, Town Meeting back in May voted to earmark those funds in order to pay a temporary appointed town clerk if Pickles were to resign. Town Meeting also voted to make the elected town clerk position an appointed one.

In other matters, the board approved Building Commissioner Scott Shippey’s proposed building permit fees, effective next Monday, September 9, in order for them to be comparable to other similar communities’ fees.

Albert Muren, a Buzzards Bay Coalition volunteer citizen water quality monitor, gave a brief presentation on water quality results rating four key saltwater locations in Marion from zero to 100. Hillers Cove and outer Aucoot Cove both scored 90 in the “outstanding” category, and middle Aucoot Cove scored an 87, also outstanding. However, inner Aucoot Cove only scored a 43 in the “fair” category.

Korrin Peterson from the Buzzards Bay Coalition and Marc Drainville from GDH, Inc. asked the board for approval to investigate the feasibility of a future regional sewer project with Wareham that would pump wastewater from a Marion wastewater lagoon through a pipe to the Wareham wastewater treatment plant during off-peak hours. GHD, Inc. offered to perform the feasibility study free of charge to the Town of Marion. After a brief discussion, the selectmen approved the free study.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen is scheduled for September 17 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Town House.

Rochester Conservation Commission

By Marilou Newell

Some of the cases were continuances of continuances that were again continued, while at least one case was being heard for the first time. That’s the way things go in the world of conservation oversight. And so, on September 3 as the Rochester Conservation Commission conducted its due diligence on behalf of the town and its citizens, five hearings were continued.

Engineer Richard Charon represented Daniel Paradis for property located at 443 Neck Road, a parcel situated on the shores of Snipatuit Pond, in a Notice of Intent hearing.

Charon said that the conceptual plans included the razing of a 1930’s cottage and the construction of a four-bedroom home. However, he impressed upon the commission that the plans were speculative, more to determine the viability of the property for future new construction versus actual plans of record for an upcoming groundbreaking.

The conceptual plans, Charon pointed out, also included a freshwater well and a 1,000-gallon septic tank.
Vice Chairman Daniel Gagne asked that the plans be revised to include an emergency generator that would be connected to the pump system of the septic, and said, “If the tank over-tops there’ll be sewage heading for the wetlands.”

Charon agreed that was a good idea.

The hearing was continued until September 17. Also continued until September 17 was a continued hearing for an Abbreviated Notice of Resource Area Delineation filed by Simpson Solar for property owned by John Simpson, 102 Quaker Lane. Neither the applicant nor the representative was present on this evening. The commission accepted a letter requesting the continuance.

Two hearings, both represented by Julie Goodwin of Prime Engineering, were also for Abbreviated Notice of Resource Area Delineation for properties located at 0 Featherbed Lane and 0 Cushman Road. These properties are part of a large wetlands system Goodwin described as “swamp”, with the Featherbed Lane parcel requiring confirmation of 3,000 linear feet of bordering vegetated wetland, and the Cushman Road parcel for 2,800 linear feet.

These submittals, along with at least two others, are being proposed by developer by SunRaise Investments, Portsmouth, NH for solar arrays.

The hearings were both continued until October 1 to allow the conservation agent, Laurell Farinon, time to review wetland flagging in the field.

Coming closer to shovels in the ground, but also continued, was a reopened hearing for an over 55 residential development planned for Rounseville Road adjacent to Plumb Corner.

Representing the applicants Gibbs Bray and Patricia Bray was Brian Wallace of J.C. Engineering, Inc. for a Notice of Intent filed by REpurpose Properties.

Wallace explained that work had been ongoing since May with peer review consultant Ken Motta of Field Engineering, and said that Motta’s comments had been incorporated and, while the plans before the commission were an earlier version, updated plans would be completed in the coming few days.

Gagne asked that, when the applicant returned to the commission, the plans include a separate layout of the erosion controls that will be used. He was also asked that permanent demarcation of the “No Touch Zone” be included pre- and post-construction. Wallace agreed with these requests. The hearing was continued until October 1.

Also coming before the commission was Michael Murphy for property located on Mary’s Pond Road for an Order of Conditions for work that never took place. A Certificate of Compliance to clear the deed was granted, allowing a property sale to move forward.

And last up was a request to withdraw without prejudice a Notice of Intent filed by T-Mobile for the installation of a 25KV generator on property located at 98 Bowen’s Lane. The request was granted.

The next meeting of the Rochester Conservation Commission is scheduled for September 17 at 7:00 pm in the Rochester Town Hall meeting room.

School Superintendent to Retire in June

Joint Meeting of the School Committees

By Jean Perry

The superintendent of the four Tri-Town school districts is retiring after 10 years.
The official word on Dr. Doug White’s impending retirement set for June 2020 was announced during the joint meeting of the Tri-Town School Committees on August 26, kicking off the conversation on how best to start the search for his replacement.

White called the upcoming school year one of big transitions as several new faces step into administrative positions and the districts continue the search for a new business administrator once Paul Kitchen leaves his post in the upcoming month.

School Committee members reviewed materials left over from the prior superintendent search a decade ago, although regulations surrounding the Request for Proposal (RFP) process have changed relative to the selection of a consultant to assist in the search. An RFP is no longer required to solicit quotes from competing consultants, a bonus for committee members eager to accept White’s suggestion that they should start the search process sooner rather than later.

“The further you wait, the longer you go, the further you push that out,” White said. “And if you have any glitches, you’re going to get closer and closer to the start of another school year.”

The goal now is to have someone for the position... who meets all the qualifications by the end of January 2020.

Right away the school committees voted to form a small committee consisting of the four chairs from each district school committee to solicit quotes from hiring consultants and form a list of the desired qualifications and experience they wish to see in their next superintendent.

Old Rochester Regional School Committee member Jim Muse (Mattapoisett) suggested the districts consider starting the search internally for candidates that might qualify for the job, an approach he says would save time and money in the process of replacing White.

“...It would behoove us to establish the criteria and see if those ... people are already on our radar and not from some unknown state who are interested ... before we go to a full-fledged outside process,” said Muse. “We don’t have to go across the country to take applicants.” Muse continued, “If we find that we don’t have somebody ... we could still leave the process open....”

Muse also emphasized that the members of the school committees are the ones who will select the final candidate and that the committees aren’t required to hold a public opinion session on the matter.

ORR School Committee member Heather Burke (Marion) in response suggested, “Even though ... we are the body that decides, given the nature of a regional school district, we do need to solicit the input from teachers, towns, general public, parents – things like that just to make it as inclusive a process as possible.”

The ensuing vote was to allow the four chairs to hold a special meeting on October 9 at 6:30 pm in the junior high school media room and to allow any other committee members to join them in the discussion. From there, they will solicit quotes from hiring consultants and make suggestions for a small search committee to set the criteria for the new superintendent and eventually narrow down the pool of prospective candidates.

“No matter what we do, we’re going to make an informed decision,” said Muse.

White affirmed that funding for a hiring consultant had been allocated from each of the four districts’ fiscal 2020 budgets.

The next regularly scheduled joint meeting of the Tri-Town and Old Rochester Regional School Committees is scheduled for September 26 at 6:30 pm in the media room at ORR Junior High School.

OC Football Takes Advantage of Week 1 Bye

High School Sports Update

By Nick Friar

While everyone else in the Massachusetts high school football world plays their first game on Friday, Old Colony football will still be planning. Typically, the Cougars have their bye in the middle of the season, but this year, things somehow shook out where they’re just starting their season one week after everyone else.

There are pros and cons to the odd scheduling, but Old Colony head coach Brandon Mendez is focused on the positives at this point. Though he’s not getting hung up on his guys being fresher than Holbrook, who the Cougars face in Week 2, Mendez’s focus is on the fact that the Cougars will be able to spend a little extra time on technique.

“It’s not the worst thing in the world,” Mendez said. “We have a veteran team, so it allows us to get a little bit more in before that first real game.

“I feel OK because we scrimmaged up quite a bit,” he continued. “We went and scrimmaged a very good Nauset team, Nantucket, and we treated the whole jamboree against Fairhaven like a real game. As far as being game-ready, with a veteran team, I don’t worry as much. It’s going to give us an opportunity to focus on technique a little more. We don’t have to rush through things.”

Old Colony is returning eight players on the offensive side of the ball and nine on defense, some of which can play both sides of the ball, like Matt Bumpus. Among those returning are Bumpus, Kyle Scholz, Phil Proctor, Ryan Rego, Noah Vertigo, Elijah Smith, Ben Kingsbury, and Blake Dennison.

With so many players returning from last year’s roster, Old Colony doesn’t need to spend as much time on the scheme or the general concepts. This group already knows how things work in the program. Instead, the Cougars are trying to refine the little things so they can gain an edge against any opponent.

“We’re certainly more advanced at this point than we were last year,” Mendez said. “It really gives us a chance to focus on technique more and improve the little things a bit more. Where in the past we’ve had to make sure certain coverages are in, the coverages are there. It’s nothing new.

“I think the thing that stands out more this year is the kids are asking more valuable questions of the coaches about the scheme than we ever have in the past,” Mendez continued. “It just proves that they get it. They know and they’re hungry to get the right answers and want more out of it, which is great for us.”

Last year, the Cougars’ defensive was lockdown. No team was going to light up the scoreboard against Old Colony – on the road, or at home. The Cougars offense, however, wasn’t able to match the defense’s consistency.

But now the Cougars have defined Bumpus’ role as the team’s play-caller, and someone who will be on the field at all times, even when Scholz is lining up at quarterback. Between the two, Mendez fully expects Old Colony to improve off of last year.

“[Scholz] hit the gym hard this offseason. He’s fully committed,” Mendez said. “He’s looked much more comfortable this pre-season than he did last year. Last year, he got a little worked up. He seemed a little tense. We’d try to slow him down. He’s been very composed this preseason, which is where he needs to be.

“[Bumpus is] the leader. He’s the guy. He’s calling out the plays in the huddle. ... He’s the one who brings the composure. His leadership ability this year has really stood out for us. It’s been outstanding.”

To the Editor:

Thank You For Supporting the Street Painting Festival. Another summer season is drawing to a close and the Onset Bay Association and Friends of Onset Street Painting Festival have many supporters and collaborators to thank for the success of the Chalk-Full-O-Fun Festival. First, a huge thank you to our generous grantors and sponsors: the United Way of Greater New Bedford, the Wareham and Rochester Cultural Councils, local agencies that are part of the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency. Second, many thanks to the environmental nonprofit groups who provided information, demonstrations and materials to share with the public about the very important services that they provide to protect and preserve our marine wildlife and regional habitats: New England Coastal Wildlife Alliance, National Marine Life Center, and Wareham Land Trust. A tip of the hat to Ms. Dion, Ms. Sharples and the Wareham high School Art Club for developing the blueprint for the 10’ by 16’ sea life mural that was recreated on the stage by a multitude of festival-goers. Gratitude goes out to the 15 crafters/vendors who contributed to the festival and sold their unique crafts. Also, a big thank you to the Wareham free Public Library for their assembly of the children’s Story Walk and to Lt. Walter Correia and officers of the Wareham Police Department who provided the road barriers to kept us safe throughout the day. There were 209 registered artists who hailed from 6 states and 43 cities and towns. Our feature artist, Laura Potter and our musician, Peter Mundt, shared their excellent talents with us. Much appreciation to King Richard’s Faire, Water Wizz and the Edaville Entertainment Center for some fantastic prizes for the festival winners. And last, but certainly not least, a very special thanks to the 30 volunteers who put in the time, energy and sweat to bring a fun family day to the village of Onset.

More than medicine.
I have to wonder the rationale behind this sudden closure, beyond the cost savings. There must have been a master plan to do so for some time, especially considering the 14 million dollar expansion to St. Luke’s Maternity Center.

Yes, Tobey is a small community hospital with less than 500 annual births. But the key word here is ‘community’. Southcoast is slowly, but systematically, dismantling what makes our local hospital so special to the community it serves.

I will forever be grateful to the Makepeace Family, to the incredible doctors, compassionate maternity nurses, and to the special midwifery program, for making maternity care such an integral part of Tobey and the communities they have served since 1940. It is painful when ‘business’ decisions are made with what appears to be a disregard for how it ultimately affects patients and the medical care they receive locally.

Sippican Historical Society

In 1998, the Sippican Historical Society commissioned an architectural survey of Marion’s historic homes and buildings. The survey was funded one-half by the Sippican Historical Society and one-half by the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Due to the limits of funding, not all of the historic buildings were surveyed, but over 100 were catalogued and photographed. The results of the survey are in digital form on the Massachusetts Historical Commission’s website and in four binders in the Sippican Historical Society’s office (and at the Marion Town Clerk’s office).

Marion (Old Rochester) is one of the oldest towns in the United States, and the Sippican Historical Society maintains an extensive collection of documentation on its historic buildings. The Sippican Historical Society will preview one building a week so that the residents of Marion can understand more about its unique historical architecture.

This installment features 8 West Drive. Designed by Coolidge and Carlson, the house at 8 West Drive, was called Merrycroft. It was built for Charles W. Leatherbee, who was the proprietor of the Leatherbee Lumber Company of Roxbury, Massachusetts. Leatherbee was a summer resident of Marion until 1910.

Sippican Choral Society

Now is the time to secure your place on stage for one of the region’s best-beloved annual traditions. The Sippican Choral Society will begin rehearsals Monday, September 9, at 7:15 pm for its annual Christmas concert. Yes, Christmas! The holiday season seems a long way off right now, but there’s a lot of music to learn and rehearse, and that takes time, said Mike Chaplain, Sippican Choral Society president. Rehearsals will take place every Monday evening at 7:30 pm in the Wickenden Chapel at Tabor Academy.

a lot of fun, too. That’s why so many members keep coming back year after year. We are accountants and shopkeepers and nurses and engineers, but we share one great passion; the joy of creating music!”

Sippican Choral Society does not require auditions. Anybody who wants to sing can just show up. “If you don’t know how to read music, it’s okay. By the end of rehearsals, you’ll be up to speed,” said Chaplain.

Please arrive a little early (7:00pm) for the first rehearsal to get signed in, pay dues of $35, and pick up your music (which the dues help to pay for).

The 2019 program, “Christmas Past & Christmas Present,” will be staged December 6 in New Bedford, and December 8 in Marion. It features compositions by Charpentier, Billings, Poulenc, Rutter and Mannheim Steamroller. Darry Dolezal is returning as music director, with Michelle Gordon as accompanist.

All voices and all levels of experience are welcome, including high schoolers.

For more information, leave a message for Bob Hlady at 508-748-2639, or visit the Sippican Choral Society website at www.sippicanchoralsociety.org.

Marion Codification Committee

The Marion Codification Committee will bring forward more Bylaw Improvements for Fall Town Meeting. In 2016, the Town of Marion hired General Code, a consultant company who specializes in reviewing municipal bylaws for content and conflict. General Code provided some 280 comments on discrepancies, ambiguities, and misplaced items in the Town of Marion bylaws.

The Bylaw Codification Committee, a subcommittee of the Planning Board, has since been meeting regularly to resolve the comments. Similar proposed corrections and improvements have been submitted at subsequent Town Meetings.

For this Fall Town Meeting, another set of improvements to various sections in the Marion bylaws will be provided. Some are filling blank zoning determinations in the Table of Use Regulations, changing titles, removing duplicate sections, adding clarification language, removing wording redundant to the MA Building Code, defining the volume of a building, among other changes.

The Planning Board is holding a public hearing on Monday, October 7 at 7:20 pm on the proposed bylaw changes for this Fall Town Meeting. Anyone interested is invited to attend the public hearing or visit the Planning Board Office to view the text of these proposals.

My dog spends lots of time chewing and licking his feet. What does this mean?

Your dog is showing signs of allergies. People with allergies tend to cough and sneeze. Dogs will lick, chew and rub.

What can my dog be allergic to and what should I do?

Your dog can be allergic to food, fleas, articles that he comes into contact with such as wool rugs, all pollen, mold, and dust that affects people. Try to keep a log of your dog’s itchiness to determine if it happens all year round or if it is seasonal. Food allergies are not seasonal. Talk to your veterinarian about diet changes, medications and allergy testing to determine what may be the most helpful for your pet.

Marion Art Center

The Marion Art Center is pleased to present an artist’s lecture by Robert Seyffert, currently exhibiting in the MAC lower gallery. Seyffert will present on Saturday, September 28 at 11am at the Marion Art Center. This is the final day of the exhibition, featuring paintings by Nancy Dyer Mitton & Robert Seyffert. The event is free – guests may RSVP by emailing marionartcenter@verizon.net or by calling 508-748-1266.

Robert Seyffert lives and paints en plein air in NYC. This exhibition of paintings focuses on his love of vintage American cars parked on obscure city streets. He paints in a classic Contemporary American Realist style not unlike Edward Hopper. Seyffert received his BFA from the Maryland Institute, College of Art and his MFA from Parsons School of Design. His prizes have included the Yale at Norfolk Award, the Helena Rubenstein Grant, 1st Prize National Arts Club in 1999, Greenshields Fellowship, and in 2019 the Poe Award for Excellence in the Arts from the Bronx Historical Society. American Artist magazine said “Whether it’s a big tree or a 1965 Pontiac, there’s something about the light hitting the subject that excites me, and that’s what I paint. I’m trying to get the sensation created by the thing I’m looking at, and not just copying it” (Howell, 2003).

Actor Stephen Collins will be playing Herman Melville in Sailing Towards my Father on the Marion Art Center stage on Saturday, September 28 at 7:30pm. This one-man play by Carl A. Rossi “chronicles Melville’s life from youth to old age, concentrating on his evolution as a writer and his complex relations with God, his parents and siblings, his wife and children, and Nathanial Hawthorne.” Tickets to this one-night performance are available for purchase in person, by phone, or online at marionartcenter.org/theatre. Pricing is $18 for MAC members and $20 for non-members, with a special rate of $15 for students under 18.

Current students wishing to remain in the same ensemble they were in last year do not have to audition at this time.

The season runs from September to May and will begin on Saturday, September 14, for Poco Strings, Preparatory String Ensemble, and Debut Orchestra, and on Monday, September 16, for Repertory Orchestra and Symphony Orchestra. There will be four scheduled concerts, including a side-by-side performance for Symphony Orchestra ensemble members with the New Bedford Symphony Orchestra at their December Holiday Pops concerts at the Zeiterion Performing Arts Center. Other performance opportunities include chamber music performances at community events throughout the year, as well as performances at SEMAYO functions.

The Southeastern Massachusetts Youth Orchestras are the youth orchestras of the New Bedford Symphony Orchestra. Their mission is to bring together young musicians from across Southeastern Massachusetts to participate in an educational and artistic experience in a full orchestra setting. Sippican Woman’s Club

There aren’t many clubs that can claim 115 years of continued activity. The Sippican Woman’s Club began in 1904. There was a three-fold objective – social, educative, and humanitarian. In 1914, they raised funds to sponsor a nursing association, providing a clinic and living quarters for the town nurse.

In 1947, the focus of their philanthropic endeavors became scholarships for Marion students, which has continued for 72 years. This year, 2019, scholarships totaling $13,000 were awarded to 23 students. The Annual House Tour is the principle fund raising activity.

The 2019-2020 season begins on September 13 with a popular program “The Fashions of Downton Abbey”. Karen Antonowicz, an expert in the field of Historic Costume and Textiles will give an informative presentation about the lives and fashions of the residents of Downton Abbey. We will travel through time exploring the styles of 1912 through the 1920s, an intriguing period when major changes occurred in fashion and history. This is a timely program, because the movie “Downton Abbey” is being released on September 20.

This program will be held at Handy’s Tavern, 152 Front Street, Marion. It begins at 12:30 pm with a finger food luncheon, followed by a short business meeting and program. Non-members are welcome for a $5 guest fee.

New members are always welcome. For more information check the website sippicanwomansclub.org and our Facebook page “Sippican Woman’s Club – official site”, and call Jeanne Lake at 509-748-0619.

OBITUARIES

Sue van Wiggeren, 92, of Fairhaven, wife of the late Richard H. van Wiggeren, passed away on Saturday August 10, 2019, while at Care One at New Bedford with her loving family by her side. Affectionately known as “Suzie Wong”, she embraced and loved life, and was courageous and determined.

Born in Fall River, she was the daughter of the late Charlie and Jade (Wong) Wong. She graduated from New Bedford High School in 1944.

Raised into the restaurant business, she and her family successfully operated Charlie Wong’s in New Bedford. At the early age of 25, she spearheaded the opening of the Cathay Temple in Mattapoisett. “The Temple”, as it became known, was a gathering spot for many generations. She was a sharp business woman and well respected in the community.

Sue is survived by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, whom she adored: Kathryn Hurlburt and her husband Charles “Beau” Hurlburt of Mattapoisett, their children Charles G. “Gray” Hurlburt of Brooklyn, NY and Peter Hurlburt of Nashville, TN, and Laura Lanagan of Mattapoisett, her children Thomas M. Lanagan, Jr. of West Falmouth, Alyson and her husband Tyler W. Herrick, Ryan J. Lanagan, and great-grandchildren, Tyler, Jr. and Hazel Jane Herrick, all of Nantucket. She is also survived by her sisters, May W. and husband Philip Moy of Fairhaven and Debbie Holt of Connecticut, and many nieces and nephews.

She was the sister of the late Meline Loo, Claudia Wong, Dennis Wong, Stephen Wong, and Loy Wong.

Suzie’s family would like to extend a sincere thank you to the entire staff of Care One at New Bedford for their loving care of our mother. Despite her spunky attitude, you always treated her with kindness, dignity and respect.

Private services and burial were elegantly directed by the Saunders family and attended by immediate family at Riverside Cemetery in Fairhaven. Family and friends are invited to a Memorial Service at the Unitarian Memorial Church, 102 Green Street, Fairhaven on Saturday October 19, 2019 at 11 am. “I never said, ‘The superman exists, and he’s American.’ What I said was, ‘God exists, and he’s American.’” - A character in Alan Moore’s Watchmen

Well, what if Satan existed and he were American and a superman? The sensationally effective horror movie Brightburn meditates on that. A low-budget production by today’s standards, it’s horrifically violent at times — at least two bits made me gasp and/or avert my eyes, and this ain’t my first time at the gore-movie rodeo. The premise mashes up Superman’s origin story with that of Damien Thorn (of the Omen series). A young couple living on a farm in Kansas are trying for a baby. Soon enough, they find one — in a spaceship that crash-lands in the fields outside. The couple raise him as their own, and when he hits puberty he starts manifesting strange abilities and weird obsessions. Except that the abilities include flight and super-strength, and the obsessions boil down to an unearthly voice instructing him to “take the world.”

The notion of a superpowered being who’s more psycho than hero is not new, of course. Even discounting the throngs of supervillains in comics over the last 81 years, material like Marshal Law, The One, the above-mentioned Watchmen, and The Boys (recently treated as an Amazon Prime series) have tackled the existential threat of creatures who are physically heightened but morally bankrupt. Brightburn just takes its Juvenalian-satirical approach directly to the source — the genesis of Clark Kent, raised as an unassuming, righteous farm boy who eventually leaves Smallville for Metropolis, where he’s needed more. Here, the Clark is a 12-year-old named Brandon Breyer (Jackson A. Dunn), and his parents are Tori (the ubiquitous Elizabeth Banks), an artist, and Kyle (David Denman), who works the land and raises chickens. When the chickens all turn up mutilated one night, a wolf is suspected. But it’s not a wolf.

If you agree to overlook a couple of plot infelicities, such as Brandon leaving a Zorro-style signature on his crimes and the cops somehow not figuring it out until far too late, Brightburn is an intelligently made thriller whose director, David Yarovesky (The Hive), knows how to draw out dread with silence and turn it up to 11 only when necessary. As Brandon starts to slip into homicidal madness — though it seems the spaceship hidden in the barn activates his demons in some way — he makes a creepy costume for himself, although I’m not sure if superheroes even exist as a fictional concept in the movie’s universe. (Perhaps the spaceship gives him the costume design.) The violence, when it comes, is startlingly vicious and ugly, toying with the outer limits of an R rating. This movie about an alternate-world Superboy is decidedly not for children.

Is the story a metaphor for how a lonely, smart kid, bullied by peers and rejected by a cute girl, explodes into mass murder of the sort that’s become so grindingly familiar in recent years? Could be, but then stories like this predate our current horrors (and Brandon’s victims are all adults, anyway). Its commentary seems pointed more at the superhero-messiah narrative; during the end credits, an actor who turns up often in the work of this film’s producer James Gunn (Guardians of the Galaxy) cameos as a raving conspiracy theorist who gives examples of other weird threats. This seems to promise sequels unfolding in a shared universe with Brightburn, though the film probably didn’t do well enough at the cash registers.

The problem is, this sort of thing is probably only good for one movie. It turns out that it’s roughly as difficult to write about a villain who can do anything as it is about a hero who can do anything. The structure becomes predictable, almost like a slasher film: Someone draws Brandon’s wrath, then spectacularly becomes an ex-someone. Maybe we should just be left to imagine the expansion of the Brightburn-verse. Not everything needs to be a franchise (although I won’t be surprised if an outfit like Dynamite or Avatar, specialists in profanely gory comics, puts out a Brightburn line). Though horror has its own needless-franchise problems, it’s better to think of Brightburn as supernatural, or übernatural, horror. If we’re being honest, the superhero genre — with its costumed gods who could as easily incinerate as save us, due to one frayed wire in their brain — should always have been horror, anyway.

SALOME’S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be careful not to allow the backers of a new financial “deal” to pull the wool over the Lamb’s eyes. It could hold fewer plusses and more negatives than you were first led to believe.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It’s a good idea to finish all incomplete tasks so that you can devote your attention to next week’s projects. The weekend could hold surprises for romantic Fernandas and Ferdinands.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A workplace suggestion you made a while ago that you might have forgotten could come back with a request to turn it from idea to reality. Your social life picks up considerably this weekend.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Someone from the past could return with an intriguing opportunity for a future project. Check into it, by all means. But don’t neglect your current responsibilities in the meantime.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Keeping your claws sheathed and using good humor instead to counter someone who’s bad-mouthing the Big Cat isn’t easy. But it’s the best way to avoid more problems down the line.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A workplace situation could improve if you’re less critical and more supportive of those who are, after all, trying to do their best. Let them know you’re there to help when necessary.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A new job offer might not carry all the benefits you’re seeking. Make sure you know what you’re entitled to, what is off the table and what is negotiable before you make a decision.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A social obligation you would rather get out of could hold some surprisingly positive aspects. Why not go and see for yourself? A family member makes a curious request.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A workplace situation could improve if you’re less critical and more supportive of those who are, after all, trying to do their best. Let them know you’re there to help when necessary.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A domestic situation continues to improve, thanks to all the tender, loving concern you’ve shown. A colleague makes a questionable move that you might want to check out sooner rather than later.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A sudden turn in a romantic relationship calls for both a rational and passionate response. Keep the love level high, but also find out why the problem arose in the first place.

BORN THIS WEEK: You often set high standards for others. But to your credit, you set the same expectations for yourself.

fencing is made from wrought iron, very heavy, and in excellent shape. The reason we replaced the fence was because it was cheaper to replace the fence than it was to scrape, sand, and paint the fence.

Some of the fence has been repainted, but most have not. But in any case, one or two sections in your yard or garden or leaning against your house to act as a trellis would look great. The possibilities are endless.

Please call Dana Tripp at 508-728-1403 for pricing and details. All monies generated will go into the Cushing Cemetery treasury for the care and upkeep of the cemetery.

Beverly Yacht Club Hosts U.S. Adult Sailing Championship

Beverly Yacht Club will be hosting the prestigious U.S. Adult Sailing Championship Regatta for the Clifford D. Mallory Trophy with racing commencing on September 5 and running through September 8. Racing will take place in the outer harbor on a fleet of J80 sailboats. Twelve teams from across the country have been chosen to compete via an application process. The 12 Skippers hail from Minnesota, Florida, Texas, California, New Hampshire, Maryland, Ohio, North Carolina, Michigan, and Massachusetts. Our own Chip Johns will be representing Beverly Yacht Club and the Southern Massachusetts Sailing Association.

The highly regarded group of sailors, including past Mallory Trophy champions, have experience in over 15 classes of boats ranging from J80s, J70s, J24s to Etchells to Sonars to Melges to dinghies, including Lasers, 420s and kiteboarding. The talented group of sailors is comprised of National Champions, many former collegiate sailors including College All Americans, and those with an impressive amount of offshore sailing experience. This will be some very exciting, close course racing.

Buzzards Bay Coalition Golf Tournament

Golfers of all abilities can enjoy a unique afternoon at a championship golf course while supporting clean water at the Buzzards Bay Coalition’s annual Golf Tournament on Friday, October 25 at the Bay Club in Mattapoisett.

All proceeds from the Tournament go into a dedicated fund to support the cleanup of nitrogen pollution – Buzzards Bay’s largest pollutant – in New Bedford Harbor. Bring business associates and friends out to enjoy a day of good cheer on the golf course for a great cause.

For golfers, this event is a rare opportunity to enjoy the private Bay Club’s parkland-style 7,000-yard course, designed by PGA Tour professional Brad Faxon in conjunction with golf course architect Brad Booth. With 88 percent of its 625 forested acres preserved, The Bay Club is the only Certified Silver Audubon Signature Sanctuary in Massachusetts.

Scott Zeien, owner of Kingman Yacht Center in Bourne, is returning to the Golf Tournament for the seventh time this year. “This is a wonderful opportunity to play a beautiful, private course of the highest caliber,” he said. “When you add that all the players are united in purpose to help preserve our Bay, it adds a level of camaraderie and community to the event.”

The tournament is a scramble format with registration and practice at 10:00 am and a shotgun start at 12:00 pm. Registration is $250 for individuals or $1,000 for a foursome. Registration includes 18 holes of golf, greens fees, cart rental, tournament gift, boxed lunches, beer, and snacks on the course, and a lively after-party at the renowned Golf House Restaurant with cocktails, light fare, and awards and prizes, including an opportunity to putt for the chance to win $5,000.

Not a golfer? You can still enjoy the festivities and support for clean water by purchasing a $35 ticket to the cocktail party reception, which begins at 5:00 pm.

Register online to secure your spot in the Tournament via www.savebuzzardsbay.org/golf or at the Buzzards Bay Coalition office at 114 Front Street, New Bedford.

Tournament and tee sponsorship opportunities are also available for companies who want to show their support for our local environment. For more information or to register by phone, contact events@savebuzzardsbay.org or 508-999-6363.

Marion Scholarship Fund

To enhance the education of Marion students, the Town of Marion has two funds. Both funds are supported entirely by donations of generous Marion residents.

The Scholarship Fund awards money to deserving Marion students as they head off to their first year of college. Applicants are asked to submit their transcripts, a list of extra-curricular activities and community service, and letters of recommendations. This year the Scholarship Committee received 13 applications and made the very hard decision as to whom to award the scholarship. If sufficient funds are available, multiple award winners are named.

The Educational Fund contributes money to the Sippican Elementary School for items that are not covered under regular budget line items, but have been requested by teachers. This year we funded a special cart for overnight storage and charging of Chrome Book computers. This is an essential component to make full use of the computers which are an important part of the students’ curriculum.

Whether writing a check, bringing in the loose change on your dresser, having a lemonade stand or a yard sale, we are grateful to you for your help. When you make your donation, in any amount, please specify which fund you would like your donation to go to: Scholarship Fund or Educational Fund.

All donations should be addressed to the Marion Scholarship Fund, 2 Spring Street, Marion MA 02738.

Marion Scholarship Fund Committee: S. Cook, J. LeFavor, C. Pierce, M. Soden, D. White (Superintendent of Schools)

WOW...UNCLE ROB, IT KINDA LOOKS LIKE YOU ATE WAY TOO MUCH LUNCH.

I SURE DID. I COULDN'T EAT ANOTHER BITE. I FEEL LIKE I'M ABOUT TO BURST.

TOO BAD, THE FARMER JUST BROUGHT OUT WHAT LOOKS LIKE A DESSERT.

WHAT? ...OH, WELLS, YOU DRIVE A HARD BARGAIN. OK, YOU TALKED ME INTO IT.

Friendly Visitor Program
The Friendly Visitor Program of the Marion COA seeks to maximize independence and enrich the quality of life for isolated seniors within the community. The program provides screened and trained volunteers to visit seniors in their homes. Visitors support seniors through weekly contact, providing social support, and a connection to the community. All volunteers are screened through a CORI (Criminal History Systems Board) check. For more information, please contact Linda Aguiar at 508 748-3570.

Buzzards Bay Area Habitat for Humanity
Buzzards Bay Area Habitat for Humanity has recently joined hands with those in the community to form a group of builders, subcontractors, and donors, all volunteering their time, skills, and resources to help a local mother. After the birth of her second child, the mother contracted an aggressive infection that ultimately led to bilateral below-the-knee amputations along with other serious complications. After months of rehabilitation, this mother remains determined to continue with therapy to improve her mobility in hopes of one day being able to keep up with her two young and active children. Habitat for Humanity has stepped in to help renovate the family’s home and will be providing a large accessible bathroom for the mother.

Habitat’s “Brush With Kindness” program allows Habitat to serve local families who are in need of repairs such as weatherization (interior storm windows), painting, fixing up an existing porch, adding a ramp, repairing a roof, or making a home accessible again. For families in need of critical home repairs, Habitat’s Brush With Kindness program may be the solution. To sponsor or nominate a family, please call the Habitat office at 508-758-4517.

Habitat for Humanity homes and Brush With Kindness projects are fully supported by donations. Habitat’s financial resources are limited and they rely upon gifts of land, discounted properties, donations, and discounted materials to assure the affordability of the houses that are built and the remodel projects that are completed.

Habitat’s mission is to bring people together to build homes, communities, and hope. Please consider

Mattapoisett Enhanced Online Bill Pay Service

Mattapoisett residents and taxpayers are now able to pay their Real Estate, Personal Property, Motor Vehicle and Boat Excise taxes, and Water/Sewer bills with greater flexibility. The new system is secure, easy to use, and allows customers the option of paying their bills via their checking account with ACH or by using a credit/debit card. Customers are able to view their bills and make a one-time payment with or without registering, and registered customers can enjoy 24/7 access to payment history and bills. By registering, customers will also be able to pay anytime, anywhere with a mobile optimized experience either online, on their mobile device, or by text message. Other enhanced features include the ability to schedule a payment, either for the same day or a future date, or to establish an automatic payment schedule.

Paying electronically is faster and more convenient than paying with personal online banking. Paying with personal online banking results in an actual bank check mailed to the Town. Many times incorrect or missing information causes delays in payment posting. EFT/ACH payments are received and cleared faster than checks issued by banks. The Collector’s Office uploads electronic payment files, therefore, improving the accuracy and timeliness of payment posting for customers. In addition to receiving email reminders when a payment is due and a confirmation email after making a payment, customers can sign up for courtesy email reminders.

Advantages of e-Billing and Payment:
- Paying online is faster than mailing a check
- Bills and payment history are kept securely in one place
- No worries about a bill or check getting lost in the mail
- Paying online saves stamps, envelopes, and gas
- Pay your bill from wherever you have Internet access
- Late fees can be avoided with scheduled or automatic payments

Please go to www.mattapoisett.net to learn more and begin paying online!

Church of Marion has a church ride program for its Sunday service.

A group of volunteers would like to pick you up on Sunday for the church service and take you home afterwards. The worship service begins at 10:00 am and a fellowship time follows the service. The church has an elevator and is handicap accessible.

All you need to do is call the church office at 508-748-1053 by noon on Friday to arrange for a ride on Sunday. Also, let the office know whether you have any mobility aids such as a walker or wheelchair so that the appropriate vehicle can transport you. We have a team of six drivers who would love to bring you to church. More drivers will be arranged if needed.

We will gladly arrange for this transportation for one week or for every week. Please do not hesitate to call the church office to ask for transportation. Our drivers are happy to transport you.

We look forward to seeing you in church.

Red Cross Volunteers Needed

There are many ways our Red Cross volunteers are involved and give back to the community. They help canteen for our brave first responders, keep you hydrated during a local road race or even a Cape Cod Baseball League game on a hot summer day. We have blood service volunteers that help us fill this critical life-saving need for blood. There are opportunities to volunteer to Service to our Armed Forces, Youth Services, and Health and Safety Preparedness, Communication volunteers, Administrative Support – there are so many ways to serve. Our Disaster Action Team (DAT) members help those in crisis: when disaster strikes, the Red Cross is always there. These wonderful volunteers are not only here for our local communities, but for those in other areas of the country and the globe that need assistance – everything from flooding, fires, natural disasters, and more. We are looking for all these types of volunteers, people just like you and me who want to help. Don’t worry, we provide training and you will be ready and confident in your skills to serve in the best capacity. We can’t wait until you join our Team.

And it’s so easy. Simply go online to www.redcross.org/ma/hyannis and click on ‘Volunteer’ to sign up today for our local Cape, Islands & Southeast Mass Chapter. We serve Cape Cod, Martha’s Vineyard, Nantucket, Plymouth, and Bristol Counties in Southeast Mass.

Once you volunteer, you become part of an honorable tradition you can be proud of. Sign up today.

Depression, Bipolar Support Alliance

Depression, Bipolar Support Alliance (DBSA) support group meets every first and third Thursday of the month from 6:30 pm - 8:00 pm at the St. Gabriel’s Church, 124 Front Street in Marion. For more information, call John at 508-971-0018.

FISH - Friends In Service Helping

Friends In Service Helping has been in operation in Mattapoisett since 1969. We provide rides to medical appointments for elderly residents who cannot drive anymore. We service Mattapoisett residents with transportation from their homes to Wareham, Marion, Fairhaven, New Bedford, and Dartmouth, as well as right here in Mattapoisett. Last year alone, we transported 409 residents.

Our town does not have public transportation. Our elderly residents are counting on FISH to get them to their medical appointments. We need more volunteer callers and drivers. We always work around your schedule when it is convenient for you! To find out more about your opportunity to be a FISH volunteer, please call FISH Coordinator Cathy Dupont at 508-758-9681.
